

PORTWEINMESSE 2023

LIST OF PARTICIPATING PRODUCERS & PORTS

Welcome to the Portweinmesse

Another year, another Portweinmesse, but the Douro has a lot to do to adapt to modern times. First of all, it needs to alter the regulations in the region. Can you imagine that the current regulations have been more or less in place since 1931? Try to imagine what the Douro was at that time. A place where only Port was made and no Douro wines, except perhaps some for the workers to drink during the harvest and the harsh winters. In the last two decades alone, Port production has been reduced by almost a quarter and sales of Douro still wines have reached around 60 million bottles. However, Douro wine laws only regulate Port and result in many tons of grapes for still wines being sold below cost. This needs to change urgently and I very much hope to be able to report that this has been solved at the next Portweinmesse.

Secondly, the Douro needs another great year, with all the Port houses being united in a general declaration. Then the wine-press will again focus on the great Vintage Ports and the marvellous region. But since 2017, all that focus has disappeared. Despite some really great Ports from 2018, 2019, 2020 or 2021, there is no unanimous trumpeting as in previous general declared years.

Meanwhile, the second edition of O-PORT-UNIDADE, the charity port project with grapes from more than 30 houses, was launched on 22 September this year. Find out more at www.o-port-unidade.com. The treading and party were great fun and the winemaking team is looking forward to the first meeting early next year. Be sure to try the Vintage Port and the Colheita from the first edition, available only at the Portweinmesse or in Portugal in the traditional Niepoort caves directly from the pipa, where the Colheita is slowly maturing and will one day be bottled.

Finally, I am very pleased to welcome all the Douro Boys to this Portweinmesse, a great initiative by Dorli Muhr of Wine and Partners in Austria back in 2002. We will have a fantastic masterclass and also a very limited amount of the Douro Boys Cuvee Wines and Vintage Ports and also their very recently bottled Very Old Tawny Port. The Portweinmesse is also one of the few, if not the only place where you can taste those and the Vintage Ports from the Confraria do Vinho do Porto, the Brotherhood of Port Wine. Do not miss it, as we have prepared a small vertical tasting.

If you have read this to the end: Bravo! and please sign up to our social media channels to always receive the latest Port news:
